

Washington, DC/Williamsburg: Discover the Roots of America

What was it like to sail to the New World? Your students will experience the first settlement in America-Jamestown-and see real-life examples of the lifestyle of these settlers as well as living examples of Colonial Williamsburg. Then it's on to Washington, DC to view the historic sites and memorials of our nation's capital. They'll tour living museums that represent what settlers to the New World faced as well as life in the Colonial period. Plus, they'll have a chance to view art and artifacts from our country's history and honor fallen heroes at Washington's famous museums and memorials.
